338 AUTO-MAKING CONCERNS IN U. S.

Their Output in 1914 Was 573,114 Machines at a Value of $465,042,474, the Census Bureau Finds.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 18.—A preliminary statement of the general results of the 1914 census of manufactures for the automobile industry has been issued by Director Sam L. Rogers, of the bureau of the census, department of commerce.

The figures are preliminary and subject to such change and correction as may be necessary from a further examination of the original reports.

The returns show that during 1914 there were in the United States 338 establishments manufacturing complete automobiles, their output being 573,114 machines, valued at $465,042,474.

At the 1909 census 315 establishments were reported as engaged in the manufacture of automobiles either as a primary or as a subsidiary product, and their output was 127,287 machines, valued at $165,090,044.

The increase during the five years in the number of gasoline and steam machines manufactured was thus 360.4 per cent., and in the number of electric, 22.9 per cent.

Touring cars formed the principal type manufactured during both census years.

In 1914 the output of this class of machines was 454,876, valued at $351,885,518, compared with 70,189, valued at $113,510,575, in 1909.

Of the total number of automobiles manufactured during 1914, those operated by gasoline or steam power numbered 568,399, and those operated by electric power, 4,715, as compared with 123,402 operated by gasoline or steam, and 3,835 by electric power, manufactured in 1909.

NO NEGLIGENCE BY COMPANY. In Death of Brakeman on the Springfield Electric Railway Line.

Brattleboro, Feb. 18.—The Vermont public service has announced its decision that the death of Supt. Morison on the line of the Springfield Electric Railway Co. on Jan. 23, 1916, when he was employed as a brakeman, was not due to any negligence of the railroad company.

As to the derailment of an east-bound passenger train at Keenan's Siding near Norton Mills, on the Grand Trunk railroad, on Jan. 9, 1916, the commission finds that the accident was due to the lack of proper inspection of a switch by the section foreman, who, by the way, has been discharged from service. Seven passengers and employees received minor injuries in the accident.

The commission has ordered an underpass and connecting section of highway in the town of Richford, the Canadian Pacific Railway company being concerned. The work must be completed on or before Sept. 1, 1916.

In regard to the investigation of the death of Daniel Desrochers, which was erroneously reported by the Grand Trunk railroad to have been due to an accident, the commission finds that Desrochers died of natural causes. His body was found in Island Pond February 2, 1916.

SAYS DRINK LEMONADE FOR RHEUMATISM. Wear Warm Clothes in Winter and Take One-Half Teaspoonful of Rheuma Once a Day to Drive Rheumatic Poisons from Your System.

Sufferers can get a measure of relief by keeping the feet dry, drinking plenty of lemonade and avoiding alcoholic beverages, but if you really want to get rid of rheumatism with all its agony, pain and misery, you must drive from your system every bit of poisonous secretion that lodges in the joints and muscles.

The Red Cross Pharmacy and all druggists are now offering to the public for about 50 cents a prescription called Rheuma that is so powerful that within two days after you take the first dose you will feel that the uric acid poison is leaving your body.

Rheumatism seldom fails; it seizes the torturing pain, limbers up and reduces stiff, swollen joints and drives the soreness from inflamed muscles. As a rule it can be tried for 3 to 5 days from bottles and is harmless. If you get better within 2 days don't prove that you can get rid of rheumatism or rheumatic fever, your money is waiting at your druggist's.—Adv.
